STATE CONVENTION UPROAR IS FINALLY QUELLED.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 7.—(Beethoven Hall).—In an uproarious session in this city last afternoon, the delegates to the State Democratic convention by a vote of 691 1-2 to 135 1-4 shut off all debate on the Ku Klux Klan issue which had come before the convention minority report. This record vote came after steam roller methods had been in operation all afternoon in the convention hall. Following the decisive defeat the minority report, the delegates, by viva voce vote, rousing adopted the majority report as submitted by Chairman Satterwhite of the platform and resolutions committee. The majority report of the committee, therefore, went officially on record as the platform of the State Democratic convention of 1922.

The absolute shutting off of all debate on the majority report, or the Teagarden resolution, had been expected. Judge Barry Miller of Dallas arrived in San Antonio last night from Dallas with credentials from Delta county for the sole purpose of making a fight for the Teagarden resolution on the floor of the convention. Last night and this morning it was generally believed that Judge Miller would be seated and that he would be given at least an hour or so to state the side of the anti-Klan minority in the convention. Judge Miller was beaten for the legislature in Dallas county and defeated for delegate to the convention and came on a proxy which was declared illegal by the Texas law.

Lawrence of the entertainment committee reported that all plans had been put in readiness for the entertainment of the teachers attending the Central Texas Teachers' Institute at A. & M. College tonight at Pin-Feather Club house, and urged all members of the board to attend.

President Cole called attention of the meeting to the splendid editorial in the Dallas News on Monday, September 4th, on Bryan and Brazos county community spirit as is being worked out by County Agent C. L. Beason and the Chamber of Commerce. The balance of the hour was spent in discussing matters for the upbuilding of Bryan and Brazos county.

Reception Tonight Pin-Feather
The entertainment of the teachers who attend the Central Texas Teachers' Institute at A. & M. College each year is looked forward to by the Bryan citizens with a great deal of pleasure and has become an annual affair. The plans this year are in the capable hands of Mr. T. K. Lawrence, chairman of the entertainment committee and with the beautiful setting of the Pin-Feather club house, with plenty of cool breezes, bright lights and refreshments, it promises to be the best entertainment ever given the teachers.

All members of the Chamber of Commerce are expected to be a committee of one to extend cordial welcome. Prof. Gabe Cazell will lead the singing by the Boy Scouts and there will be a quartette by the famous Rotarian Anns. Plenty of fun and frolic with good music and dancing for all. Chairman Lawrence states he hopes every citizen in Bryan will take advantage of this occasion to meet the teachers of Brazos and contiguous counties and extend to them a welcome to Bryan.

EDGE ITEMS

(Special to The Eagle)
Edge, Texas, Aug. 6.—The Edge grain has reached 320 bales to this date and some of the farmers are nearly through picking while others have just begun. Picking is going at from 85 cents to $1.00 per hundred.

The girls sewing club met at Pauline Beard's Saturday afternoon and built a few air castles, cut a few garments and dismissed until school opens which will only be a short time. The noted Cedar Creek pecan crop is almost a failure this year. Last year the nuts were shipped all over the U. S. and I know of one shipment going to Toronto, Canada.

Bro. J. L. Brown filled his regular appointment here Sunday at the Free Baptist church, with good attendance. The Edge merchants all enjoyed a good trade here last Saturday. We have four general stores, 2 filling stations, 2 garages, 2 blacksmith shops and 2 cream and soda parlors.

Jno. Payne is contemplating going to A. & M. when College opens September 18th.

(Special to The Eagle)

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 7.—Yesterday was a remarkable day in Texas political history and many events of importance took place in the democratic state convention. Governor Pat M. Neff was nominated for Governor by Judge W. C. Davis, of Bryan, and was seconded by Miss Decca Lamar West of Waco. Judge Davis paid in an eloquent speech tribute to his achievements as a great democratic governor. He declared that Governor Neff would take his place among the greatest governors that ever filled the office of chief executive of the state. Judge Davis' speech was greeted with prolonged applause and Governor Neff was given a great ovation when he accepted the nomination of the triumphant democratic party.

MAYFIELD NOMINATED
Mrs. Edith Wilman, of Dallas, the only woman elected to the Texas Legislature, nominated Earle B. Mayfield for the United States Senate, amid storms of applause. Outside of the storm raised in the convention by Judge Barry Miller of Dallas, Col. Henry D. Lindsley of Dallas, L. Sargeant of Fort Worth Judge Bill Teagarden of San Antonio and a few others over the platform the party's declaration. Many declared the platform the "greatest constructive document ever written in Texas."

WHO HANDLED PLATFORM
(Waco Times-Herald)

The sub-committee of nine members, which considered the resolutions bearing on the party's attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan and other matters was composed of Chairman Lee J. Rountree of Brazos county; E. R. Cockrell of Tarrant, formerly of Waco; H. S. Bonham of Bee; A. B. Watkins, of Henderson; Miss Margie Neal of Panola; Sam Sparks, of Travis; W. F. Jones of Val Verde; Joe Burkett, of Eastland and Joe L. Hill, of Harris.

Joe Hill, the committeeman last named, is the Harris county delegate who introduced the resolution condemning "government by injunction as having no place in a free country," and stating that "labor has a right to organize for its own protection." This resolution also denied "the right of any government by force to the courts to take from labor its inalienable rights." Mr. Hill also offered a resolution which would "prohibit the placing on any election ticket whether in the primary or general election, of the name of any person who is disqualified under the law and constitution of Texas from holding office in this state."

The same note continued to be sounded while Frank Davis, chairman of the State Executive Committee was in the chair, and it was intensified after Marshall Hicks had taken up the gavel. After John M. Mathis of Harris county had offered a resolution that all resolutions should be sent to the committee on platform and resolutions without debate, Mr. Hicks put the motion. He first called for the ayes, which responded vociferously. His call for the noes was put perfunctorily, and, before any delegates who might have registered themselves in the negative had opportunity even so much as to open their mouths, Mr. Hicks brought down the gavel and declared the motion carried. He then said: "This gavel that I hold in my hand is the same one that I used when I was temporary chairman of the convention in 1900 in Waco when Jim Hogg refused to be howled down by the mob and finally whipped the delegates into submission."

DEATH OF MRS. SIKES
AFTER A LONG LIFE

(By Mrs. Jimmie H. Rice)
Benchley, Texas, Sept. 1.—The grim reaper of death has again invaded our little city and claimed as his own another dear old mother of Israel in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Plummer Sikes. Mrs. Sikes was a native Texas, being born in Limestone county, February 11, 1845, while Anson Jones was president of Texas, thus living under two different flags and has had the honor of watching Texas grow from an infant state to one of the grandest states in the Union. She was a daughter of Harrison Luther Plummer whose wife and child were stolen with Cynthia Ann Parker by the Indians from a fort near the present town of Groesbeck. Mr. Plummer later recovered his wife and child through the aid of a friendly Indian and paying ransom for them, though Elizabeth Plummer was not a daughter of this union, but of second marriage. She was married to James H. Sikes about 57 years ago and to them was born 10 children, one dying while small and Thomas, the second son, dying about three years ago. The surviving ones are: W. L. Mack and Napoleon Sikes and Mrs. John Peyton and Mrs. John Jenkins of Benchley, Josh and Miss Leafy Sikes of Port Arthur and Henry Sikes of Mesa and 28 grandchildren, besides several brothers and sisters. Mrs. Sikes was ill only nine days, all being done that medical skill and loving hands could do but to no avail and on August 22, 1922, she breathed her last at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Jenkins, thus living 77 years, 6 months and 11 days. Forty six years of this life she was a devoted member of the Church of Christ. Her husband being a minister of the same church until his death some 26 years ago.

Grandma Sikes, as she was called, had many friends here and elsewhere whose hearts are bowed in grief. She was a noble Christian lady and today, as these earthly ties are broken and our loved ones transplanted to that home above may our hearts put forth new tendrils and entwine themselves around our Father's throne thus making heaven nearer and dearer than ever before.

She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in Thompson Creek cemetery, Rev. Martin of Bryan officiating the service and R. B. Dunn, W. D. Roman of Bryan, Columbus Seale Brad Haygood, Jesse Franklin and Jim Peyton acting as pallbearers.

"Her toils are over
Her work is done
She has fought a good fight
Her victory is won."

Secretary Eberstadt reported Ferguson Bros. Hardware Co. as new members and Chairman T. K. Lawrence of the entertainment committee reported that all plans had been put in readiness for the entertainment of the teachers attending the Central Texas Teachers' Institute at A. & M. College tonight at Fin-Feather Club house, and urged all members of the board to attend.

President Cole called attention of the meeting to the splendid editorial in the Dallas News on Monday, September 4th, on Bryan and Brazos county community spirit as is being worked out by County Agent C. L. Beason and the Chamber of Commerce. The balance of the hour was spent in discussing matters for the upbuilding of Bryan and Brazos county.

Reception Tonight Fin-Feather The entertainment of the teachers who attend the Central Texas Teachers' Institute at A. & M. College each year is looked forward to by the Bryan citizens with a great deal of pleasure and has become an annual affair. The plans this year are in the capable hands of Mr. T. K. Lawrence, chairman of the entertainment committee and with the beautiful setting of the Fin-Feather club house, with plenty of cool breezes, bright lights and refreshments, it promises to be the best entertainment ever given the teachers. All members of the Chamber of Commerce are expected to be a committee of one to extend cordial welcome. Prof. Gabe Cazell will lead the singing by the Boy Scouts and there will be a quartette by the famous Rotarian Anns. Plenty of fun and frolic with good music and dancing for all. Chairman Lawrence states he hopes every citizen in Bryan will take advantage of this occasion to meet the teachers of Brazos and contiguous counties and extend to them a welcome to Bryan.

EDGE ITEMS
(Special to The Eagle)

Edge, Texas, Aug. 6.—The Edge gin has reached 320 bales to this date and some of the farmers are nearly through picking while others have just begun. Picking is going at from 85 cents to $1.00 per hundred.

The girls sewing club met at Pauline Beard's Saturday afternoon and built a few air castles, cut a few garments and dismissed until school opens which will only be a short time.

The noted Cedar Creek pecan crop is almost a failure this year. Last year the nuts were shipped all over the U. S. and I know of one shipment going to Toronto, Canada.

Bro. J. L. Brown filled his regular appointment here Sunday at the Free Baptist church, with good attendance.

The Edge merchants all enjoyed a good trade here last Saturday. We have four general stores, 2 filling stations, 2 garages, 2 blacksmith shops and 2 cream and soda parlors.

John Payne is contemplating going to A. & M. when College opens September 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Conway and daughters, Misses Arnes, Edith and Louise of Steep Hollow were shopping with Bryan merchants today. Miss Agnes will leave in the next few days for Denton to enter the College of Industrial Arts.

Miss Mary Cahill of Smetana was in Bryan shopping today.

(Special to The Eagle)

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 7.—Yesterday was a remarkable day in Texas political history and many events of importance took place in the democratic state convention. Governor Pat M. Neff was nominated for Governor by Judge W. C. Davis, of Bryan, and was seconded by Miss Decca Lamar West of Waco. Judge Davis in an eloquent speech paid tribute to Governor Neff and his achievements as a great democratic governor. He declared that Governor Neff would take his place among the greatest governors that ever filled the office of chief executive of the state. Judge Davis' speech was greeted with prolonged applause and Governor Neff was given a great ovation when he accepted the nomination of the triumphant democratic party.

MAYFIELD NOMINATED

Mrs. Edith Wilmons, of Dallas, the only woman elected to the Texas Legislature, nominated Earle B. Mayfield for the United States Senate, amid storms of applause. Outside of the storm raised in the convention by Judge Barry Miller of Dallas, Col. Henry D. Lindsey of Dallas, D. L. Sargeant of Fort Worth Judge Bill Teagarden of San Antonio and a few others over the platform the convention was practically unanimous on all the details of the party's declaration. Many declared the platform the "greatest constructive document ever written in Texas."

WHO HANDLED PLATFORM

The sub-committee of nine members, which considered the resolutions bearing on the party's attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan and other matters was composed of Chairman Lee J. Rountree of Brazos county; E. R. Cockrell of Tarrant, formerly of Waco; H. S. Bonham of Bee; A. B. Watkins, of Henderson; Miss Margie Neal of Panola; Sam Sparks, of Travis; W. F. Jones of Val Verde; Joe Burkett, of Eastland and Joe L. Hill, of Harris.

Joe Hill, the committeeman last named, is the Harris county delegate who introduced the resolution condemning "government by injunction as having no place in a free country," and stating that "labor has a right to organize for its own protection." This resolution also denied "the right of any government by the power of the courts to take from labor its inalienable rights." Mr. Hill also offered a resolution which would "prohibit the placing on any election ticket whether in the primary or general election, of the name of any person who is disqualified under the law and constitution of Texas from holding office in this state."

The same note continued to be sounded while Frank Davis, chairman of the State Executive Committee was in the chair, and it was intensified after Marshall Hicks had taken up the gavel. After John M. Mathis of Harris county had offered a resolution that all resolutions should be sent to the committee on platform and resolutions without debate, Mr. Hicks put the motion. He first called for the ayes, which responded vociferously. His call for the noes was put perfunctorily, and, before any delegates who might have registered themselves in the negative had opportunity even so much as to open their mouths, Mr. Hicks brought down the gavel and declared the motion carried. He then said: "This gavel that I hold in my hand is the same one that I used when I was temporary chairman of the convention in 1900 in Waco when Jim Hogg refused to be howled down by the mob and finally whipped the delegates into submission."

The matter was referred to the boys work committee for recommendations.

DEATH OF MRS. SIKES AFTER A LONG LIFE

(By Mrs. Jimmie H. Rice)

Benchley, Texas, Sept. 1.—The grim reaper of death has again invaded our little city and claimed as his own another dear old mother of Israel in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Plummer Sikes. Mrs. Sikes was a native Texan, being born in Limestone county, February 11, 1845, while Anson Jones was president of Texas, thus living under two different flags and has had the honor of watching Texas grow from an infant state to one of the grandest states in the Union. She was a daughter of Harrison Luther Plummer whose wife and child were stolen with Cynthia Ann Parker by the Indians from a fort near the present town of Groesbeck. Mr. Plummer later recovered his wife and child through the aid of a friendly Indian and paying ransom for them, though Elizabeth Plummer was not a daughter of this union, but of second marriage. She was married to James H. Sikes about 57 years ago and to them was born 10 children, one dying while small and Thomas, the second son, dying about three years ago. The surviving ones are: W. L. Mack and Napoleon Sikes and Mrs. John Peyton and Mrs. John Jenkins of Benchley, Josh and Miss Leafy Sikes of Port Arthur and Henry Sikes of Mesa and 28 grandchildren, besides several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Sikes was ill only nine days, all being done that medical skill and loving hands could do but to no avail and on August 22, 1922, she breathed her last at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Jenkins, thus living 77 years, 6 months and 11 days. Forty six years of this life she was a devout member of the Church of Christ Her husband being a minister of the same church until his death some 26 years ago.

Grandma Sikes, as she was called, had many friends here and elsewhere whose heads are bowed in grief. She was a noble Christian lady and today is asleep in Jesus. Now, dear friends, as these earthly ties are broken and our loved ones transplanted to that home above may our hearts put forth new tendrils and entwine themselves around our Father's throne thus making heaven nearer and dearer than ever before.

She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in Thompson Creek cemetery, Rev. Martin of Bryan conducting the service and R. B. Dunn, W. D. Roman of Bryan, Columbus Seale, Brad Haygood, Jesse Franklin and Jim Peyton acting as pallbearers.

"Her tolls are over
Her work is done
She has fought a good fight
Her victory is won."

Millican Community Club Banquet Was Great Success

(Special to the Bryan Eagle)

Millican, Texas, Aug. 31.—Probably the most elaborate entertainment ever given in Millican was the banquet on Tuesday evening by the Millican Community club. The affair was arranged in the high school auditorium and the tables were decorated with cut flowers and evergreens. Some special decorations and motes were displayed, being arranged by Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, who was joined by County Agent C. L. Beason in assisting the community club in all the arrangements. There were visitors from Navasota, Tabor, College and Bryan and the entire community fair, according to the announcement made by Mr. J. and has for its great purpose the betterment of the community and expects to begin the first active public work by giving a community fair, according to the announcement made by Mr. J. D. Steele of Millican. A spirit of optimism for community welfare was sounded as the keynote and every speaker touched the great vital living question of better homes, social conditions and educational methods inringing sentiments that brought much applause and enthusiasm from 8 o'clock until 11:30.

A Sumptuous Banquet

At the opening Mr. J. D. Battle of Millican announced that Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce had been selected as toastmaster and he asked Rev. King Vivion to pronounce the invocation. Toastmaster Eberstadt briefly and appropriately thanked the club for the honor conferred upon him to preside over the important affair and introduced the following speakers:

"Millican Schools," Prof. T. Hensarling of Millican.

Toastmaster Eberstadt made several good speeches during the evening in introducing the speakers, especially in introducing Mrs. A. J. Edwards, president of the Millican Community club. He said:

"The executive committee of the Millican Community club displayed great judgment in the selection of their leader:

"There is not a thing on earth or in heaven.
There is not a task to mankind given.
There is not a joy, there is not a woe,
There is not a whispered yes or no—
There is not a life, a death or a birth,
That has a feather's weight of worth
Without a woman in it."

"A woman who does things and does them right, who never says go ahead I am coming—but come on follow me—and who will respond to the toast, My Views," Mrs. A. J. Edwards, president Millican Community club."

OFFICERS CAPTURED THIRTY GALLON "STILL" ON BRYAN-TABOR ROAD

About 9 o'clock last night Sheriff L. E. Morehead, City Marshall W. S. Martin and Nightwatchman Offa Williams raided the home of Sam Decharo, an Italian farmer 3 miles northeast of Bryan on the Bryan-Tabor road and captured a 30-gallon "still" and about seven gallons of colored "white lightning." This is the next largest still captured by Sheriff Morehead, is of copper, wash tub tank and plenty of coil and is now safely housed at the county jail.

Sam Palermo was taken in custody at the home and came to Bryan and gave bond in the sum of $1000 to await the action of the grand jury.

Lieutenant and Mrs. C. Wright have returned from their summer vacation and are again domiciled at The Edge in this city. Lieut. Wright is connected with the A. & M. College.

CABBAGE AGAIN

The Texas Farm and Ranch argues that the larger the cities become the more demand there will be for agricultural products and better the prices. Perhaps there will be more demand, but the prices to the producer go down in proportion to the number of people in the cities who get profit out of the farmers' products. A ton of cabbage will at the present rate of change downward bring the producer only $3 per ton and cost the ultimate consumer $200. Perhaps the producer should have at least a larger share of the $200. But he will not get it. The more people there are in the cities not working the more the cabbage will cost and the less the producer will receive. These are the facts in the case—Bryan Eagle.

There you go again, Lee. You and your overhead and practically no head for figures at all. Only last week your cabbage producer was selling it at $6 a ton and now you have cut him down to $3 a ton. Something ought to be done to price fixers like you. What do you mean, squeezing the lifeblood out of cabbages this way? And, besides, the main thing is the thing which you never mention at all. For the main thing is what are you going to do about it? S. P. has lived around cabbage eaters for years and S. P. has yet to hear any cabbage eater complaining about cabbage being $200 a ton—saving and excepting Lee Rountree. The people in the cities these days who aren't working aren't eating much $200-a-ton cabbage, S. P. can tell you. And what's more, there are precious few of them in Texas cities but have jobs. But if everybody in the city moved to the country cabbage wouldn't be worth 15 cents a ton. Just figure on that. The city slicker isn't gobbling up the horny-handed son of toil's cabbage. Lee Rountree doesn't seem to be much of a city man. It's wrong to go on the theory that everything's crooked and stop at that. If the spread in cabbage prices is too great the Eagle can do a great service by specifying where it is too great and into whose pockets it is going. But is will take facts and no complaints to do any good. Complaints don't change the laws of supply and demand nor remove from a producer the penalty of being far from his market instead of close to it. It's all right to talk about overhead, Lee, but don't holler and howl until you leave the impression that the cure for overhead is decapitation. If you know any cure out with it and let's have a look at it.—Joe J. Taylor in Dallas-Galveston News.

To keep the record straight, Joe, and to bring you back to understanding we will state that in 1921 cabbage sold in the Rio Grande Valley at $4.75 to $6.00 per ton and sold at the markets in Dallas and Houston three days later from 7 to 10 cents per pound. We do not care to argue this with you—it was a fact and if you will make investigation you will find it is true. We will make the further suggestion that if the cities continue to increase in population at the expense of the country there are just that many more non-producers to support. If ten families live from the products of one farm ultimately the ton of cabbage that brings the producer $6.00 to the ultimate consumer will be from $200 to $400. There are too many people adding to the cost of living in the shape of overhead. If you cannot see that, Joe, you are reminded that there are "none so blind as those who refuse to see." We use cabbage only to illustrate as to potatoes, tomatoes, peaches, watermelons, citrus, fruit and all vegetables. Whenever ten men expect to live off the product of one man and pay him only about one-tenth what they should for that product and sell it at an exorbitant price it is bringing on conditions that exist in Russia, Austria and Germany. They have so much paper money that it is becoming worthless and will buy nothing. Money is mere paper and is valueless unless it has a purchasing power. You are making argument for just such conditions as exist in Russia and other degenerate nations. You are not wise.

BEASON KNOWS HIS BUSINESS

(From Dallas-Galveston News).

The Semi-Weekly Farm News carried recently the interesting story of the development of the community clubs organized in the rural sections of Brazos county. The occasion of the article was the assemblage of four hundred Brazos County Club members at A. and M. College for the entertainment of those attending the farmers' short course offered by the College. Edge's club was represented there. So was the organization at Tabor and Millican and Kurten and Smetana and Wellborn and Steep Hollow. And they were proud of what they had done for their respective communities and of what they had planned for future doing. When Tabor wants a community fair, Tabor goes ahead and puts up stalls and booths at the Tabor school, has concessions, premium lists and all the rest of the trimmings of a real fair. And then they go ahead and have a real fair.

When Smetana needs some new seats for the school or an extra teacher for the succeeding term, they have a community barbecue, and the admission money meets the need. When Steep Hollow feels the isolation of rural life there's always the regular meeting of the community club to break the monotony and to bring young and old together for a program. It may be a spelling match, or an address from a visiting speaker. Perhaps it is a lecture on judging poultry or corn. Maybe it is a debate between some of the lads who live near by. Once in a while a picnic brings the people together. And in it all C. L. Beason's name is sure to be heard now and then. Mr. Beason is County Agent of Brazos county. He has made it his business and his pleasure to help organize the community spirit of Brazos county citizens out in the country. And it has paid immensely. When Mr. Beason wants exhibits for the county fair he knows who have been winning with their community fair exhibits. When he has a message of importance to take to the farmers he has a means of bringing them together readily for their own benefit. But Beason doesn't run these clubs. The clubs run themselves. Nor does Beason claim the credit. He will tell you of Secretary Eberstadt of the Chamber of Commerce in Bryan. Eberstadt thinks it is a vacation to quit his office and go out to Edge or Wellborn and help decorate for a community fair. If they ask him he will bring his brushes along and paint signs for the booths, and get all sorts of fun out of doing it. Eberstadt and Beason and the Chamber of Commerce work together because they all like one another and because they have found that they can get more done that way. Beason knows his business, Brazos county knows Beason and the Chamber of Commerce finances him. And the community clubs are behind Beason just like Beason is behind the community clubs. A county like that is worth living in.

You do not understand overhead, Joe. You probably will never understand it because you do not wish to. Prof. L. L. Chappelle has just returned to Bryan from Bentonville, Arkansas, and other points in the fruit belt. He says that the farmers offered to sell him their immense apple crops for 50 cents per bushel. He was offered peaches for 25 cents per bushel and they were rotting in the fields. A bushel of peaches recently sold in Oklahoma for $1.00 and then sold two days later in Dallas at 40 cents per dozen, or $17.80 per bushel. These peaches then were served in Dallas cafes at 40 cents each with a 15 cent tip—which is overhead, Joe. That made them bring $80 with $30 in tips. We declare solemnly that the farmer should have some of this overhead or he will have to go out of business. Joe, we are not ready to give you the remedy and are not "hollering" as you term it. You remind us of the fellow who drank bootleg whiskey at $60 per gallon and then wanted his salary raised. He said he got thirsty on the trip and had to tip the people along the road 25 cents for water. He said he must have more wages, or strike. You want everybody to quit eating peaches and cabbage, Joe, and perhaps it will come to that if the overhead is so heavy that they all rot in the fields. The physical facts are against you, Joe, and your astute argument by a high degree man sounds fine on paper. It is "sound in brass and tinkling cymbal" Joe, and you know it and we know you know it and we know that you know you know it, Joe.

"FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING" The Mineral Wells branch of "Flowers for the Living" club is still in existence and in fine working order. This fact was evidenced this morning when Mrs. Leo Russell and Justice George P. Barber presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to The Index editor as a token of appreciation of an editorial appearing in The Index yesterday. When the work of a newspaper man is thus openly endorsed by such beautiful tokens it serves as a stimulus for deeper study, closer application and better preparation in every way for his daily work. The mere expression of prefatory thanks is such a weak way of showing our appreciation for such commendable favors, still it is the only avenue we have, and we trust these two donors will read a deeper meaning into this effort to thank them than appears in the word. Such incidents make bright the pathway daily trod by the editor.—Sam E. Miller in Mineral Wells Index.

A HAPPY MEDIUM President Harding smokes a corn pipe in the privacy of his study. From present indications he's going to have to smoke up if he gets the railway strike settled in time to successfully handle the crops this fall.—Mineral Wells Index.

We believe a man should smoke a pipe sometimes and roll up his sleeves as the occasion demands. But any man can easily smoke too many pipes and roll his sleeves entirely too high for working purposes. There is a happy medium for all things.

The editor of the Eagle is in receipt of a wonderful picture of a great fish from our friend Judge Homer Harwood of Warren, Mich., caught on his recent trip with the National Editorial Association in Montana. What we want, Homer, is more fish and not so many pictures. Do you understand?

A Democratic state convention without Lee J. Rountree would be like Uncle Joe Cannon without a cigar. The Bard of Bryan was on hand in all his glory today.—San Antonio Evening Press.

It is about time for the newspapers in Texas to carry the headline: "James E. Ferguson Refuses to Talk."

Lance Corporal we hope understands the term "overhead."

There isn't any good reason why Brazos county should not have more fruit trees planted in the proper season. Every farm and every home should have more fruit trees and it is only a few months to planting time again.

Millican is moving for a community fair sometime this fall. Tabor already has fixed her date for September 29. Brazos county needs all the community fairs possible and then a great county fair.

EIGHTEEN GRADUATES FOR COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL

Exercises Held at Guion Hall Friday Night—President Bizzell Presented Diplomas Announcing the Closing of the Most Successful Session of Summer School at A. & M. College.

(Special to the Bryan Eagle.) College Station, Texas, Sept. 2.—To assist in performing the service of giving to the state of Texas a new taxation system for "perpetuating and immortalizing the educational institutions of this great commonwealth and making them first-class among those of the other 46 states" was the greatest responsibility resting up the graduates of the A. & M. College of Texas, Editor Lee J. Rountree, representative from Brazos and Grimes counties, said in his address to the summer graduating class here last night. Mr. Rountree was introduced by President W. B. Bizzell as the man who will be outstanding among the legislators to champion the cause of education when the legislature again assembles to appropriate funds for the educational institutions. The most momentous question before the people of Texas today is the writing of a new constitution providing for an adequate taxation system to build up and maintain the schools from the smallest country unit to the higher institutions of learning in a class with the best in the nation, Mr. Rountree declared. Our forefathers, he said, showed their wisdom and appreciation of the place which education should have in a republic by providing in public lands a sufficient endowment to build up and perpetuate the schools which they established when the constitution was written. "But the public lands were squandered instead of being administered to meet the growing needs of education," the speaker declared. "We are just becoming aware that the public domain has been sacrificed and our educational institutions are tottering on the brink of decay. We must announce a new purpose, write a new constitution for Texas having for its purpose the perpetuity, life, being and triumph of the public school system and the institutions of higher learning in this state. We must have a permanent fund for improvements, maintenance and support of the schools which will forever be beyond the whims of the demagogues. Texas can never rise from her unholy place of thirteenth in educational advantages as compared with other states of the Union as long as the appropriations depended upon by the schools are subject to the whims and passions of men who come and go in political life in Texas."

EIGHTEEN ARE IN THE SUMMER SCHOOL GRADUATION Following the address of Mr. Rountree, President Bizzell conferred degrees as follows: Master of science in agricultural education: Thomas A. Fritts, College Station; John Alvin Hendricks, Penelope; Leander D. Howell, Bexar, Ala.; William L. Hughes, Bryan. Master of science in agriculture: Ransom J. Cole, Bryan, and John C. Anderson, College Station. Bachelor of science in agricultural education: John T. Boyce, Okolona, Ark.; Samuel J. Gay, Moscow; Verna R. Glazener, College Station; Sonley R. Le May, Crockett; Roger V. McKee, Bryan; James W. Monk, Center, James Irving Moore, Calvert; Eugene Oliver, Kountze; Claude A. Wilkins, Smiley. Bachelor of science in agriculture: Jesse C. Miller, Elgin; Brittain B. Robinson, Galveston; Bachelor of science in civil engineering: Andrew J. Van Tuyl, Fort Worth.

PRESIDENT BIZZELL AWARDED DIPLOMAS In awarding the diplomas President Bizzell expressed his sincere pleasure at being able to address a graduating class at the close of the summer school. This is the second commencement that has been celebrated by the college on the completion of a summer session. "I am looking forward to the day when we will have thousands of students pursuing hundreds of courses every summer," President Bizzell said. "There is no justification in building up a five million dollar plant here and allowing it to stand idle one-fourth of the year. It is not good business and it is not a good policy for the state, especially since there are a great group of busy people who cannot turn aside from their business for a period of time longer than a short summer session."

THE ADVERTISING PROBLEM

(Groesbeck Journal)

The so-called foreign advertisers are taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the small town newspapers. They get results from the advertising placed in the columns of the small newspapers because their advertising is continuous and persistent. The merchants in the towns where these newspapers are published can expect far greater returns from advertising because they are known to the people who read the papers. But the local merchants cannot be made to see the opportunity offered. Many local newspapers would be forced to suspend were it not for the foreign advertisers, as the home merchants do not advertise enough to pay the expenses of the newspaper and the towns that do not advertise lose much business.

Sunshine Joe Webb says in the Waco News-Tribune: "In Russia a beefsteak costs 5,000,000 rubles and a cup of coffee 1,250,000 rubles. When a fellow starts from his room to the restaurant to get a square meal, he probably first has to engage a truck to haul the money with which to pay for it." Yet there are those in the United States who do not understand "overhead." The Arkansas peach farmer offered his entire crop of peaches at 25 cents per bushel. But they rotted in the field. On the same day one peach sold in a Dallas hotel for 40 cents with a 15-cent tip. Are we going on the Russian rocks?

Pearson Rowell of Waco claims to be the champion snake killer having shot and killed 43 water moccasins at one shot in the Brazos river below Waco. It is said heretofore that Waco had the champion crook shooter and the champion speed demon. Now if Waco could develop the champion cotton picker we'd be very glad to announce the fact.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT

One feed dealer of Bryan was heard to remark a few days ago that 150 car loads of corn would be shipped into Bryan this fall and winter. This will not perhaps, represent one fourth of the feed stuffs that will be shipped into the county to supply feed to farmers till another crop may be made. It may readily be seen that the banks of the county will, in the main, have to furnish from a quarter to half million dollars to foot the feed bill this winter and next Spring. This seems a gigantic drain on our economic resources; send away money which we need at home to provide better farm equipment, more home conveniences, and at least a few of the luxuries that will make farm life more attractive.

When a great day, like the Dallas Morning News, stops, as it were, to mention in its editorial columns the work of our humble county agent we are made to feel more than ever before the importance of the work, and however much underserved the compliment paid the Brazos county agent may be, he fully realizes that honors bring corresponding obligations. Confident of the achievements of our boys and girls and the men and women, and buoyant in the hope of high endeavors we shall work and pray for the dawn of a better day in our Texas agriculture.

F. M. Law, former president, Texas Bankers' Association, states in the Banker-Farmer, September, that in his opinion the banker and the farmer are not working as close together as they might to accomplish the most toward the general welfare of the people.

Preston Sneed, Staff Correspondent, Semi-Weekly Farm News, gives a very interesting story of A. V. Laro, Fort Worth, Texas, who cleared $5,000 from 35 acres of water melons in one year. Mr. Sneed stated that this farmer's success with water melons was due to the fact that he had adopted the policy of using good seed, the importance of which had been demonstrated by County Agent Means of Tarrant county. As a rule, melons brought a fair price on the Bryan market this year, but many melons were of inferior quality, so much so that many people quit buying melons on account of the risk. What we need to do is to follow the method of Mr. Laro and breed up in Brazos county melons of dependable quality, melons that will always command the highest price because of their quality. All like melons, but we can not afford to purchase two melons with the hope of getting only one fit to eat.

Last week George Holland, a boy born and reared in Brazos county and for many years an active member of the agriculture clubs, returned to West Texas where he again assumes the principalship of McAdoo school, having associated with him some six or seven teachers. Although only 20 years of age this young son of Brazos county has made splendid progress, notwithstanding the fact that he was left fatherless at the tender age of one year old. He spent his early boyhood days in the Reliance and Steep Hollow communities where through the teaching of a good mother and other wholesome environments, he was inspired to seek better educational advantages. Entering Bryan High school he was soon equipped to matriculate at A. & M. College. After working the last year at

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Tucker of Navasota and Dr. Will C. Roberts of Hempstead were here to spend Sunday with Mrs. L. H. Tucker.

Mess Hall to pay expenses, having spent three years in training at A. & M., he engaged in teaching in order that he might get a better viewpoint of life and at the same time earn sufficient money to enable him to return and finish his education at the A. & M. College.

The first we saw of George this summer was as he returned home to see his mother; the next we saw him with a book under his arm headed for the A. & M. College. Idleness of the streets has no attraction for him. In this day and time, literally filled with golden opportunities, when so many young people seem to despise the day of preparation, preparation so necessary for the momentous work of tomorrow, it is most encouraging from the viewpoint of our future citizenship, to see a stalwart young man step out and pursue a course that not only bespeaks his greatest success possible, but also promises to reflect honor and credit on his county and State. The genial smile and the high ideals cherished by George Holland will some day place him far from the mediocrity of life while enjoying an enviable round in the ladder of fame.

In his address before the joint session of the Welborn Sunday school on September 3, T. O. Walton, Director extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas, chose for his theme, "Christian Citizenship," taking as the basis for his remarks the 4th chapter of Nehemiah, and putting special stress on such passages as, "The people had a mind to work."

Mr. Walton said he had heard for 40 years preachers emphasize, "Six days shalt thou work," but until recently he had not been convinced of the significance and sin of idleness, a condition today mightily affecting our economic life and tending to uproot the Christian ideals of our fathers. He called attention to the fact that there were two outstanding characteristics in Nehemiah's life, love of country and devotion to God, two essentials in every life that counts, for the most part. Mr. Walton closed his address by saying that the turning need of the hour is men and women of unimpeachable Christian character, and that to bring this condition about will require the closest co-operation of the home, the school, and the community.

Howard's Dairyman, September 1, speaking editorially, quotes Dean H. J. Waters of the Kansas College of Agriculture, as saying with reference to the labor involved in dairying: "Any business that has short hours and a large amount of leisure produces only a average results, and in average results there is no profit. I have no patience in the long run with the idea that we should shorten up the hours of work and add to our leisure and loafing period. I understand that the more we work, the more we will accomplish, and there is no business that offers the same opportunity for continuous employment and profitable employment the year round like dairying."

A man way up at Corsicana was heard to say a few days ago that he would not take $100 for his trip to the Short Course and County Agents' meeting at College Station July 24-29, adding that it had given him a new vision of his opportunities as a farmer and filled him with an enthusiasm to tackle the job as never before. In other words, the man returned home with a purpose and "a mind to work."

CABBAGE AGAIN

The Texas Farm and Ranch argues that the larger the cities become the more demand there will be for agricultural products and better the prices. Perhaps there will be more demand, but the prices to the producer go down in proportion to the number of people in the cities who get profit out of the farmers' products. A ton of cabbage will at the present rate of change downward bring the producer only $3 per ton and cost the ultimate consumer $200. Perhaps the producer should have at least a larger share of the $200. But he will not get it. The more people there are in the cities not working the more the cabbage will cost and the less the producer will receive. These are the facts in the case.—Bryan Eagle.

There you go again, Lee. You and your overhead and practically no head for figures at all. Only last week your cabbage producer was selling it at $6 a ton and now you have cut him down to $3 a ton. Something ought to be done to price fixers like you. What do you mean, squeezing the lifeblood out of cabbages this way? And, besides, the main thing is this: thing which you never mention at all. For the main thing is what are you going to do about it? S. P. has lived around cabbage eaters for years and S. P. has yet to hear any cabbage eater complaining about cabbage being $200 a ton—saying and excepting Lee Rountree. The people in the cities these days who aren't working aren't eating much $200-a-ton cabbage, S. P. can tell you. And what's more, there are precious few of them in Texas cities but have jobs. But if everybody in the city moved to the country cabbage wouldn't be worth 15 cents a ton. Just figure on that. The city slicker isn't gobbling up the horny-handed son of toil's cabbage. Lee Rountree doesn't seem to be much of a city man. It's wrong to go on the theory that everything's crooked and stop at that. If the spread in cabbage prices is too great the Eagle can do a great service by specifying where it is too great and into whose pockets it is going. But is will take facts and no complaints to do any good. Complaints don't change the laws of supply and demand nor remove from a producer the penalty of being far from his market instead of close to it. It's all right to talk about overhead, Lee, but don't holler and howl until you leave the impression that the cure for overhead is decapitation. If you know any cure out with it and let's have a look at it.—Joe J. Taylor in Dallas-Galveston News.

To keep the record straight, Joe, and to bring you back to understanding we will state that in 1921 cabbage sold in the Rio Grande Valley at $4.75 to $6.00 per ton and sold at the markets in Dallas and Houston three days latter from 7 to 10 cents per pound. We do not care to argue this with you—it was a fact and if you will make investigation you will find it is true. We will make the further suggestion that if the cities continue to increase in population at the expense of the country there are just that many more non-producers to support. If ten families live from the products of one farm ultimately the ton of cabbage that brings the producer $6.00 to the ultimate consumer will be from $200 to $400. There are too many people adding to the cost of living in the shape of overhead. If you cannot see that, Joe, you are reminded that there are "none so blind as those who refuse to see." We use cabbage only to illustrate as to potatoes, tomatoes, peaches, watermelons, citrus, fruit and all vegetables products. Whenever ten men expect to live off the product of one man and pay him only about one-tenth what they should for that product and sell it at an exorbitant price it is bringing on conditions that exist in Russia, Austria and Germany. They have so much paper money that it is becoming worthless and will buy nothing. Money is mere paper and is valueless unless it has a purchasing power. You are making argument for just such conditions as exist in Russia and other degenerate nations. You are not wise.

BEASON KNOWS HIS BUSINESS

(From Dallas-Galveston News).

The Semi-Weekly Farm News carried recently the interesting story of the development of the community clubs organized in the rural sections of Brazos county. The occasion of the article was the assemblage of four hundred Brazos County Club members at A. and M. College for the entertainment of those attending the farmers' short course offered by the College. Edge's club was represented there. So was the organization at Tabor and Millican and Kurten and Smetana and Wellborn and Steep Hollow. And they were proud of what they had done for their respective communities and of what they had planned for future doing. When Tabor wants a community fair, Tabor goes ahead and puts up stalls and booths at the Tabor school, has concessions, premium lists and all the rest of the trimmings of a real fair. And then they go ahead and have a real fair.

When Smetana needs some new seats for the school or an extra teacher for the succeeding term, they have a community barbecue, and the admission money meets the need. When Steep Hollow feels the isolation of rural life there's always the regular meeting of the community club to break the monotony and to bring young and old together for a program. It may be a spelling match, or an address from a visiting speaker. Perhaps it is a lecture on judging poultry or corn. Maybe it is a debate between some of the lads who live near by. Once in a while a picnic brings the people together. And in it all C. L. Beason's name is sure to be heard now and then. Mr. Beason is County Agent of Brazos county. He has made it his business and his pleasure to help organize the community spirit of Brazos county citizens out in the country. And it has paid immensely. When Mr. Beason wants exhibits for the county fair he knows who have been winning with their community fair exhibits. When he has a message of importance to take to the farmers he has a means of bringing them together readily for their own benefit. But Beason doesn't run these clubs. The clubs run themselves. Nor does Beason claim the credit. He will tell you of Secretary Eberstadt of the Chamber of Commerce in Bryan. Eberstadt thinks it is a vacation to quit his office and go out to Edge or Wellborn and help decorate for a community fair. If they ask him he will bring his brushes along and paint signs for the booths, and get all sorts of fun out of doing it. Eberstadt and Beason and the Chamber of Commerce work together because they all like one another and because they have found that they can get more done that way. Beason knows his business. Brazos county knows Beason and the Chamber of Commerce finances him. And the community clubs are behind Beason just like Beason is behind the community clubs. A county like that is worth living in.

You do not understand overhead, Joe. You probably will never understand it because you do not wish to. Prof. L. L. Chappelle has just returned to Bryan from Bentonville, Arkansas, and other points in the fruit belt. He says that the farmers offered to sell him their immense apple crops for 50 cents per bushel. He was offered peaches for 25 cents per bushel and they were rotting in the fields. A bushel of peaches recently sold in Oklahoma for $1.00 and then sold two days later in Dallas at 40 cents per dozen, or $17.80 per bushel. These peaches then were served in Dallas cafes at 40 cents each with a 15 cent tip—which is overhead, Joe. That made them bring $8.00 with $30 in tips. We declare solemnly that the farmer should have some of this overhead or he will have to go out of business. Joe, we are not ready to give you the remedy and are not "hollering" as you term it. You remind us of the fellow who drank bootleg whiskey at $60 per gallon and then wanted his salary raised. He said he got thirsty on the trip and had to tip the people along the road 25 cents for water. He said he must have more wages, or strike. You want everybody to quit eating peaches and cabbage. Joe, and perhaps it will come to that if the overhead is so heavy that they all rot in the fields. The physical facts are against you, Joe, and your astute argument by a high degree man sounds fine on paper. It is "sound ing brass and tinkling cymbal" Joe, and you know it and we know you know it and we know that you know we know you know it, Joe.

"FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING"

The Mineral Wells branch of "Flowers for the Living" club is still in existence and in fine working order. This fact was evidenced this morning when Mrs. Leo Russell and Justice George P. Barber presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to The Index editor as a token of appreciation of an editorial appearing in The Index yesterday. When the work of a newspaper man is thus openly endorsed by such beautiful tokens it serves as a stimulus for deeper study, closer application and better preparation in every way for his daily work. The mere expression of prefatory thanks is such a weak way of showing our appreciation for such commendable favors, still it is the only avenue we have, and we trust these two donors will read a deeper meaning into this effort to thank them than appears in the word ing. Such incidents make bright the pathway daily trod by the editor.—Sam E. Miller in Mineral Wells Index.

A HAPPY MEDIUM

President Harding smokes a corn cob pipe in the privacy of his study. From present indications he's going to have to smoke up if he gets the railway strike settled in time to successfully handle the crops this fall.—Mineral Wells Index.

We believe a man should smoke a pipe sometimes and roll up his sleeves as the occasion demands. But any man can easily smoke too many pipes and roll his sleeves entirely too high for working purposes. There is a happy medium for all things.

The editor of the Eagle is in receipt of a wonderful picture of a great fish from our friend Judge Homer Harwood of Warren, Mich., caught on his recent trip with the National Editorial Association in Montana. What we want, Homer, is more fish and not so many pictures. Do you understand?

A Democratic state convention without Lee J. Rountree would be like Uncle Joe Cannon without a cigar. The Bard of Bryan was on hand in all his glory today.—San Antonio Evening Press.

It is about time for the newspapers in Texas to carry the headline: "James E. Ferguson Refuses to Talk."

Lance Corporal we hope understands the term "overhead."

There isn't any good reason why Brazos county should not have more fruit trees planted in the proper season. Every farm and every home should have more fruit trees and it is only a few months to planting time again.

Millican is moving for a community fair sometime this fall. Tabor already has fixed her date for September 29. Brazos county needs all the community fairs possible and then a great county fair.

EIGHTEEN GRADUATES FOR COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL

Exercises Held at Guion Hall Friday Night—President Bizzell Presented Diplomas Announcing the Closing of the Most Successful Session of Summer School at A. & M. College.

(Special to the Bryan Eagle.)

College Station, Texas, Sept. 2.—To assist in performing the service of giving to the state of Texas a new taxation system for "perpetuating and immortalizing the educational institutions of this great commonwealth and making them first-class among those of the other 46 states" was the greatest responsibility resting upon the graduates of the A. & M. College of Texas, Editor Lee J. Rountree, representative from Brazos and Grimes counties, said in his address to the summer graduating class here last night. Mr. Rountree was introduced by President W. B. Bizzell as the man who will be outstanding among the legislators to champion the cause of education when the legislature again assembles to appropriate funds for the educational institutions. The most momentous question before the people of Texas today is the writing of a new constitution providing for an adequate taxation system to build up and maintain the schools from the smallest country unit to the higher institutions of learning in a class with the best in the nation, Mr. Rountree declared. Our forefathers, he said, showed their wisdom and appreciation of the place which education should have in a republic by providing in public lands a sufficient endowment to build up and perpetuate the schools which they established when the constitution was written. "But the public lands were squandered instead of being administered to meet the growing needs of education," the speaker declared. "We are just becoming aware that the public domain has been sacrificed and our educational institutions are tottering on the brink of decay. We must announce a new purpose, write a new constitution for Texas having for its purpose the perpetuity, life, being and triumph of the public school system and the institutions of higher learning in this state. We must have a permanent fund for improvements, maintenance and support of the schools which will forever be beyond the whims of the demagogues. Texas can never rise from her unholy place of thirteenth in educational advantages as compared with other states of the Union as long as the appropriations depended upon by the schools are subject to the whims and passions of men who come and go in political life in Texas."

EIGHTEEN ARE IN THE SUMMER SCHOOL GRADUATION

Following the address of Mr. Rountree, President Bizzell conferred degrees as follows: Master of science in agricultural education: Thomas A. Fritts, College Station; John Alvin Hendricks, Penelope; Leander D. Howell, Bexar, Ala.; William L. Hughes, Bryan. Master of science in agriculture: Ransom J. Cole, Bryan, and John C. Anderson, College Station. Bachelor of science in agricultural education: John T. Boyce, Okolona, Ark.; Samuel J. Gay, Moscow; Verna R. Glazener, College Station; Sonley R. Le May, Crockett; Roger V. McKee, Bryan; James W. Monk, Center, James Irving Moore, Calvert; Eugene Oliver, Kountze; Claude A. Wilkins, Smiley. Bachelor of science in agriculture: Jesse C. Miller, Elgin; Brittain B. Robinson, Galveston; Bachelor of science in civil engineering: Andrew J. Van Tuyl, Fort Worth.

PRESIDENT BIZZELL AWARDED DIPLOMAS

In awarding the diplomas President Bizzell expressed his sincere pleasure at being able to address a graduating class at the close of the summer school. This is the second commencement that has been celebrated by the college on the completion of a summer session. "I am looking forward to the day when we will have thousands of students pursuing hundreds of courses every summer," President Bizzell said. "There is no justification in building up a five million dollar plant here and allowing it to stand idle one-fourth of the year. It is not good business and it is not a good policy for the state, especially since there are a great group of busy people who cannot turn aside from their business for a period of time longer than a short summer session."

THE ADVERTISING PROBLEM

(Groesbeck Journal)

The so-called foreign advertisers are taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the small town newspapers. They get results from the advertising placed in the columns of the small newspapers because their advertising is continuous and persistent. The merchants in the towns where these newspapers are published can expect far greater returns from advertising because they are known to the people who read the papers. But the local merchants cannot be made to see the opportunity offered. Many local newspapers would be forced to suspend were it not for the foreign advertisers, as the home merchants do not advertise enough to pay the expenses of the newspaper and the towns that do not advertise lose much business.

Sunshine Joe Webb says in the Waco News-Tribune: "In Russia a beefsteak costs 5,000,000 rubles and a cup of coffee 1,250,000 rubles. When a fellow starts from his room to the restaurant to get a square meal, he probably first has to engage a truck to haul the money with which to pay for it." Yet there are those in the United States who do not understand "overhead." The Arkansas peach farmer offered his entire crop of peaches at 25 cents per bushel. But they rotted in the field. On the same day one peach sold in a Dallas hotel for 40 cents with a 15-cent tip. Are we going on the Russian rocks?

Pearson Rowell of Waco claims to be the champion snake killer having shot and killed 43 water moccasins at one shot in the Brazos river below Waco. It is said heretofore that Waco had the champion crap shooter and the champion speed demon. Now if Waco could develop the champion cotton picker we'd be very glad to announce the fact.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBDEPT

One feed dealer of Bryan was heard to remark a few days ago that 150 car loads of corn would be shipped into Bryan this fall and winter. This will not perhaps, represent one fourth of the feed stuffs that will be shipped into the county to supply feed to farmers till another crop may be made. It may readily be seen that the banks of the county will, in the main, have to furnish from a quarter to a half million dollars to foot the feed bill this winter and next Spring. This seems a gigantic drain on our economic resources; send away money which we need at home to provide better farm equipment, more home conveniences, and at least a few of the luxuries that will make farm life more attractive.

When a great daily, like the Dallas Morning News, stops, as it were, to mention in its editorial columns the work of an humble county agent we are made to feel more than ever before the importance of the work, and however much underserved the compliment paid the Brazos county agent may be, he fully realizes that honors bring corresponding obligations. Confident of the achievements of our boys and girls and the men and the women, and buoyant in the hope of high endeavors we shall work and pray for the dawn of a better day in our Texas agriculture.

F. M. Law, former president, Texas Banker's Association, states in the Banker-Farmer, September, that in his opinion the banker and the farmer are not working as close together as they might to accomplish the most toward the general welfare of the people.

Preston Sheed, Staff Correspondent, Semi-Weekly Farm News, gives a very interesting story of A. V. Laro, Fort Worth, Texas, who cleared $5,000 from 35 acres of water melons in one year. Mr. Sheed stated that this farmer's success with water melons was due to the fact that he had adopted the policy of using good seed, the importance of which had been demonstrated by County Agent Means of Tarrant county. As a rule, melons brought a fair price on the Bryan market this year, but many melons were of inferior quality, so much so that many people quit buying melons on account of the risk. What we need to do is to follow the method of Mr. Laro and breed up in Brazos county melons of dependable quality, melons that will always command the highest price because of their quality. We all like melons, but we can not afford to purchase two melons with the hope of getting only one fit to eat.

Last week George Holland, a boy born and reared in Brazos county and for many years an active member of the agriculture clubs, returned to West Texas where he again assumes the principalship of McAdoo school, having associated with him some six or seven teachers. Although only 20 years of age this young son of Brazos county has made splendid progress, notwithstanding the fact that he was left fatherless at the tender age of one year old. He spent his early boyhood days in the Steep Hollow communities where through the teaching of a good mother and other wholesome environments, he was inspired to seek better educational advantages. Entering Bryan High school he was soon equipped to matriculate at A. & M. College. After working the last year at

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Tucker of Navasota and Dr. Will C. Roberts of Hempstead were here to spend Sunday with Mrs. L. H. Tucker.

Mess Hall to pay expenses, having spent three years in training at A. & M., he engaged in teaching in order that he might get a better viewpoint of life and at the same time earn sufficient money to enable him to return and finish his education at the A. & M. College.

The first we saw of George this summer was as he returned home to see his mother; the next we saw him with a book under his arm headed for the A. & M. College. Idleness of the streets has no attraction for him. In this day and time, literally filled with golden opportunities, when so many young people seem to despise the day of preparation, preparation so necessary for the momentous work of tomorrow, it is most encouraging from the viewpoint of our future citizenship, to see a stalwart young man step out and pursue a course that not only bespeaks his greatest success possible, but also promises to reflect honor and credit on his county and State. The genial smile and the high ideals cherished by George Holland will some day place him far from the mediocrity of life while enjoying an enviable round in the ladder of fame.

In his address before the joint session of the Wellborn Sunday school on September 3, T. O. Walton, Director extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas, chose for his theme, "Christian Citizenship," taking as the basis for his remarks the 4th chapter of Nehemiah, and putting special stress on such passages as, "The people had a mind to work."

Mr. Walton said he had heard for 40 years preachers emphasize, "Six days shalt thou work," but until recently he had not been convinced of the significance and sin of idleness. A condition today mightily affecting our economic life and tending to uproot the Christian ideals of our fathers. He called attention to the fact that there were two outstanding characteristics in Nehemiah's life, love of country and devotion to God, two essentials in every life that counts, for the most possible. Mr. Walton closed his address by saying that the burning need of the hour is men and women of unimpeachable Christian character, and that to bring this condition about will require the closest co-operation of the home, the school, and the community.

Howard's Dairyman, September 1, speaking editorially, quotes Dean H. J. Waters of the Kansas College of Agriculture, as saying with reference to the labor involved in dairying: "Any business that has short hours and a large amount of leisure produces only a average results, and in average results there is no profit. I have no patience in the long run with the idea that we should shorten up the hours of work and add to our leisure and loafing period. I understand that the more we work, the more we will accomplish, and there is no business that offers the same opportunity for continuous employment and profitable employment the year round like dairying."

A man way up at Corsicana was heard to say a few days ago that he would not take $100 for his trip to the Short Course and County Agents' meeting at College Station July 24-29, adding that it had given him a new vision of his opportunities as a farmer and filled him with an enthusiasm to tackle the job as never before. In other words, the man returned home with a purpose and "a mind" to work.

Mrs. C.S. Goen and daughter Miss Mamie of San Marcos are here for a visit with Mrs. Goen's brothers, Mr. J. M. and Judge H. O. Ferguson.

Vision's Value

Do you appreciate the importance of good eye sight? If your sight is not perfect you could make every effort to improve it. Glasses may be necessary but this is a question you cannot decide for yourself. Eyestrain is often unsuspected as such by the sufferer as the sight appears to be perfect. Our system of examination is thorough. If your eyes trouble you in any way we shall be pleased to advise you whether yours is a case for glasses or not.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles, and was made so much better. I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

CARDUI

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you. Sold Everywhere.
